

Shivering Geoff Episode 3

GEOFF is outside in a natural session – taking in the sights and sounds of the bush.

LAWNMOWER MAN

Note begins – February 15th

When I first met Geoff he struck me as a frightened man.

A virtual recluse with few social connections of any significance.

After further meetings, I have modified my views. I find being in his presence can have an oddly meditative effect.

He has voyeuristic and scopophilic tendencies and is narcissistic and subject to self-aggrandising fantasies of his own importance.

Similar to the case of Franz J in series 3 of the Doctor Phil program.

Geoff spends many hours alone painting historically accurate miniature soldiers.

I believe he is ready to speak more about his family in our forthcoming sessions.

Addendum to this note: Geoff owes me 63 dollars for the hedge trim and general garden clean up. Note ends.

Additional Note:

Wildlines Outdoor Ambience:

1. G'day – do you need the front lawn done, today?
2. G'day ladies - do the lawns need doing?
3. I was next door trimming his hedge back.
4. It's fifty dollars for a general garden clean up.
5. I'll be back through here next week, so just call my mobile and let me know.
